

“Good lawyers are not enough.”

Most of the time, one needs an excellent advocate too. This is why at Studio Legale Sutti even lawyers dealing exclusively with transactional matters actively participate in continuing education programs aimed at developing advocacy skills and an in-depth knowledge of available traditional and alternative dispute resolution procedures.

Rethorics, neurolinguistic programming, risk-tree analysis, morphopsychology, elocution, theory of games, comparative procedural law, presentation techniques, are also part of this training.

From the lowest courts to the highest, from domestic to international arbitrations, we have over fifty years established a reputation for excellence in Italy-related contentious work, and have become the Italian international firm the most oriented towards dispute resolution. Similarly, our offices in Sofia, Belgrade and Bucarest are staffed by the local leading counsel.

When making a deal, our clients have therefore plenty of opportunity to realise that good litigators are often also the best negotiators.
